TRAFFIC COMMITTEES TO FACILITATE MOVES OF ALL FREIGHT CARS

Naming Of Bodies Of Rail Officials and Shippers Made. AIM IS PROMPTNESS Loading and Unloading Supervision Maintained.

Washington, May 22.—Naming of traffic committees, consisting of railroad officials and shippers' representatives, was under way in all principal railroad centers today, as a cooperative measure to aid in clearing up railroad congestion.

The car service committees are being appointed in response to the telegram dispatched by the interstate commerce commission appealing for unity of action by operating officers and the shipping public.

Commissioner Atchison, in charge of the rail situation, in messages authorizing the immediate appointment of such local committees, stated that among the objects to be obtained were prompt loading and unloading, load to capacity and placement of cars to meet actual necessities.

Though still badly handicapped by labor shortage in a score of centers some improvement is noted to-day in reports to the commission showing the traffic jams are being penetrated, and idle equipment extracted for movement to points where most needed. There was encouraging reduction in the number of idle cars in all yards, as a result of the orders, directing the preference of movement of solid trains of empties east and west.

The labor situation, which is more serious than rail officials are willing to admit, is attributed almost wholly to the recent switchmen's strike. The situation on the New York Central and Erie, where the shortage of labor is still very acute has proved embarrassing to other connecting lines, it was said at the commission.

The workers who went out on these lines have set up the claim that the roads have declined to restore seniority rights to men willing to return but who remain out because of the hostility manifested by the directing officials of those lines.

Some early decision was expected today at the commission on the question of possible curtailment of passenger service, until the freight traffic is cleared at the larger terminals.

First attention of the new freight controlling bodies was ordered given to the following activities: Obtaining prompt loading and unloading of equipment; loading of cars to full visible or carrying capacity; placement of car orders in accordance with necessities; reduction of use of equipment in trap or transfer service when movement can be made by motor truck or wagon; development of practicable arrangement for expedited through merchandise cars.

Temporary disposition of the $300,000 revolving fund provided by the transportation act for relief of railroads was made in orders issued by the interstate commerce commission, which, at the same time, took steps to meet future equipment needs of the carriers by proposing organization of an equipment corporation with a capital stock of $500,000,000.

Recent suggestions of the Association of Railway Executives were followed closely in apportioning the funds, but the commission confronted the railroads with the necessity of making "the largest possible contributions to meet the sums advanced by the government." The commission said it would not follow any arbitrary method of allocating the money, but would attempt to divide it so the whole country would benefit by improved transportation service.

As to the equipment trust, the commission proposed that the roads should take stock in it equaling 25 per cent of the cost of the equipment with money advanced by the government up to $125,000,000. The remaining 75 per cent would be financed through trusts placed on equipment to be built.

BUSINESS REGAINS MORE OF EQUILIBRIUM SAYS CLEVELANDER

Cleveland, O., May 22.—Business is beginning to regain its equilibrium through orderly movements, and business men are beginning to read the signs of the times and make present and future plans to conform to the changed conditions, in the opinion of D. C. Willis, chairman of the directors board of the Cleveland federal reserve bank.

"The immediate future will witness lower prices in the necessities of life but until business reaches a substantial footing, these prices cannot be considered permanent," said Willis. "Although business is returning to a solid footing, pre-war conditions are still far in the distant."

LOTS GO CHEAP IN AUCTION ON FRIDAY; BIDDING IS LIGHT

List Of Buyers To Date Is Given Publication.

Good lots in choice locations were almost given away at the two sessions of Friday's absolute auction of the Dadds subdivision, by the Gerth Realty experts.

Locations within a square or two of the court House were passed up by bidders on hand at both sessions or went for a third or fourth of what they were marked to sell for. Big crowds were on hand at both sessions but the amount and liveliness of the bidding seemed to indicate that they were composed mostly of sightseers.

Only twenty-eight lots were sold all day Friday, which is the smallest sale of any day yet and was discouraging to those backing the subdivision and the many Xenians who have shown a personal interest in seeing the development made. The sale Friday amounted to about $16,000 for the entire number of lots sold.

So far 65 lot buyers have been listed with the company during the sale. Many of these buyers have doubled, trebled or further increased their purchases, some of them buying a number of the lots together and in different sections. Among these were the Loyd Contracting Company, purchasers of probably the largest number of lots while P. H. Flynn, C. A. Kelble, and other individual buyers secured a number of the lots.

The list of buyers so far is as follows: P. H. Flynn, Paul Yeckel, Frank Simson, E. F. Roland, Thomas Ralls, Mrs. Jessie B. Chew, J. R. Stephens, Dr. J. R. McCormick, C. A. Kelble, C. A. Bone, J. F. Harshman, W. S. Downes, L. E. John, C. T. Wolf, B. P. Baldwin, J. E. Waddle, J. H. Whitmer, Harry S. Collins, E. B. Lauman, Mrs. M. R. Snodgrass, Loyd Contracting Co., Mrs. Julia Whittington, F. M. Reynolds, Mrs. J. M. Bretney, A. Z. Seibert, Theard C. White, E. H. Heathman, Harriet M. Corwin, S. T. Stauffer, Lewis Urtschel, Mrs. Helen Adair, Mrs. Nello F. Messenger, Mrs. George F. Dodds, Byron V. Thompson, George F. Wilder, George F. Hitchings, John M. Davidson, James Curlett, Jr., J. F. Harshman, Edwin T. Donson, Charles T. Brennan, Harriet C. Tyler, Thomas L. Bradley, Mrs. Annie E. Stone, Thomas W. Loyd, Harry C. Stowe, H. A. Higgins, Otto Hornick, Bert W. Townsend, L. S. Barnes, Fred Brainerd, Lewis C. Tingley, D. H. Fitz, Fred D. Ward, R. O. SUPPLY OF OIL FOR ILLUMINATING GAS TAKES BIG DECREASE

New York, May 22.—A national crisis in the supply of oil for the manufacture of illuminating gas is rising through the extraordinary demand for gasoline throughout the country, it was declared at the bureau of mines today. Through the "cracking" process, enormous quantities of gas oil are being refined into gasoline, it was stated, and resulting in a shortened supply everywhere for the manufacture of gas for lighting and heating purposes. Gas companies in attempting to obtain sufficient quantities of oil are competing with the gasoline refiners, and sending prices to new heights.

"Gas oil is selling at 11 and 12 cents a gallon as a result of the shortage," said J. O. Lewis, oil expert of the bureau of mines. "About four gallons of oil are required in making 1,000 cubic feet of gas. The total fuel oil supply in 1919 was 11,000,000,000 gallons. The gas oil supply, included in the volume of fuel oil was 600,000,000 gallons."

About 40 per cent of the gas oil supply last year was converted into gasoline. Statistics show that 1,500,000 gallons of the available supply of fuel oil including the gas oil was refined into gasoline.

Officials of the bureau of mines believe that heavier oils will have to be used in the making of gas in the future.

"The quality of light from gas will not be affected unless in connection with open jets," said Lewis. "At the same time the saving in gas and fuel oil will be very large in the face of present conditions."

CONVICTED EVADER OF DRAFT ESCAPES FROM HOME IN CAR

Grover C. Bergdoll Eludes Guard At His Home.

Washington, May 22.—Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, serving a five years sentence for evading the draft law, was permitted to leave prison in order to seek a large sum of money, which he had secreted in a place known only to himself, according to a statement made by Secretary of War Baker today.

Bergdoll was on his way to seek this money when he made his escape.

Philadelphia, May 22.—Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, convicted draft dodger, recently sentenced to serve five years on Governor's Island, escaped from army guards at his mother's home here.

The wealthy Philadelphian, who evaded the government authorities all over the country for more than two years before he was captured at his home in a sensational raid, disappeared in his own motor car while two sergeants from Fort Jay, N. Y., his guards, were sitting in the drawing room of Mrs. Bergdoll's home. The machine was driven by Bergdoll's chauffeur, the police say.

According to information received here from Fort Jay Bergdoll came to Philadelphia on a three days' furlough to attend to "important business matters." It was said by the military authorities that he had left Governor's Island on competent military instructions and was supposed to visit a city other than Philadelphia. The nature of Bergdoll's business, the military authorities said, said, was confidential.

Mrs. Emma C. Bergdoll, the fugitive's mother, was not at home when her son escaped, but returned shortly afterward.

The two sergeants telephoned police headquarters and every avenue of escape around the city was covered.

PEACE MEASURE PASSES IN HOUSE; IS UP TO WILSON

House Adapts Senate Substitute By Good Vote. EXPECT WILSON VETO

Nine Democrats Join Republicans In Approval.

Washington, May 22.—The house adopted the senate peace resolution by a vote of 228 to 139.

The resolution now goes to the president and he is expected to veto it. The majority by which it was adopted indicates that a veto can not be overridden. Twenty Democrats joined with the house Republicans in adopting the resolution, while two Republicans, Kelley of Michigan and Fuller of Massachusetts, voted against it. Two Ohio Democrats, Ashbrook and Sherwood, voted for the resolution.

The house majority accepted the senate substitute for the original house peace resolution.

Representative Porter said in debate that passage of the resolution would "require the president to state whether or not he intends to relinquish the extraordinary powers vested in him by congress, as all our former wartime presidents have done after the termination of war, or if he intends to remain a dictator and use those drastic and obnoxious laws as a weapon to compel the senate to desert from its efforts to Americanize the treaty of peace."

Representative Huddleston, Democrat, Alabama, declared that President Wilson, by his letter to Oregon Democrats, had shown "an unshameful resolution to require the Democratic party at San Francisco to declare for the league of nations unchanged and unamended." Huddleston "protested" against such a policy and declared "the people would not stand for it." He urged that if the Democratic national convention approved Mr. Wilson's position he should be renominated for a third term.

Representative Griffin, Democrat, New York, charged that the Republicans knew the resolution would not establish peace and said the proposal was a subterfuge pushed publicly for partisan motives. "If congress is in earnest about bringing about peace it would act to repeal wartime legislation," he said.

Representative Flood declared no intelligent person "would contend that congress could open diplomatic relations with Germany, as proposed by the resolution." Democrats, he said, amid applause by his colleagues and the jeers of the Republicans, were willing to enter the campaign this year with the peace situation as an issue.

FLEEING PARTY KILLED BY BANDIT LEADER IN MOUNTAINS, REPORT

General Herrera Attacks Fugitive President In Order To Obtain Money Carried By Former Leader and Party.

REVOLUTION NOW AT END IT IS ANNOUNCED

Obregon Troops In Pursuit Of Herrera, Who, It Is Alleged Attacked Party Merely With Intention of Robbery.

REPORTED DEAD

Washington, May 22.—A report that Adolfo De La Huerta, governor of the state of Sonora, had been appointed provisional president of Mexico as not credited in official circles today. According to advices direct from Mexico City the Mexican congress decided to postpone the election of a provisional president until Monday. However, indications were that De La Huerta will be chosen.

Mexico City, Mex., May 22.—Venustiano Carranza, the fugitive president of Mexico, and six of his followers have been killed in a skirmish with revolutionary troops under General Rodolfo Herrera, a rebel leader, near Tlaxcoapan, in the southern part of the state of Hidalgo, according to officially confirmed advices received by General Alvaro Obregon today.

It is believed that Ygnacio Bonillas, former Mexican ambassador to the United States, who fled from Mexico City with Carranza, was among the others slain.

The revolutionary administration was advised that Carranza's body is being brought to this city.

One message said that Carranza had been killed at 1 o'clock Thursday morning, indicating that his forces had been taken by surprise in the night. Another message said that the fight took place on Friday.

The Carranza party were deep in the Sierra Madre mountains when the attack was made and were evidently attempting to reach the east coast.

Carranza accompanied by his ministers and a heavy force of troops fled from Mexico City on May 6. He took with him an immense amount of gold and silver money.

FORMERLY LEADER

Herrera was formerly leader of a rebel faction known as Peliastae. He surrendered to the government several months ago while Carranza was still in power. Several columns of Obregonista troops are now reported to be in pursuit of Herrera.

While reports as to the skirmish near Tlaxcoapan differed as to details all agreed that Carranza had been killed. According to one report all the persons in Carranza's immediate party were put to death.

The first news of Carranza's death was contained in a message which said that the fighting had taken place near Huachinango in the state of Puebla. This was quickly followed by other reports to Obregon's headquarters which indicated that Herrera had attacked the Carranzistas to obtain money they were carrying, and not from political motives.

As Luis Cabrera, former minister of interior and Bonillas were known to be with Carranza, it was believed that both were killed by Herrera's rebel band.

General Obregon has issued a proclamation announcing that the revolution is now at an end and that the whole republic has been pacified. The revolution succeeded without excessive bloodshed because the people and the army united in ousting Carranza, and continued the proclamation. General Obregon accused the ex-president of creating a dictatorship and violating the constitution by attempting to make Bonillas president of the republic.

Washington, May 22.—George Miller, a British subject, is held by Francisco Villa for $50,000 ransom, according to official advices to the state department from Chihuahua. He was superintendent of the Alvarado Milling and Mining company of Parral.

Miller and another mining man visited the bandit's camp at Boquilla, Chihuahua, several days ago, and Miller was detained and held for ransom, according to officials of the Alvarado Mining company. The other man was let go to make arrangements for the ransom, it was said.

A correspondent interviewed Villa at Boquilla May 18 and 19 and no evidence of the presence of Miller was discovered by him. Neither was mention made of Miller. Villa told the correspondent the only foreigners he had molested were some he forced to visit him for the purpose of obtaining information about outside affairs.

Sugar Prices Break.

New York, May 22.—Heavy general selling in the sugar futures market broke prices a cent a pound. Continued agitation against the high cost of living, together with the threat of leading preserving industries throughout the country to close rather than pay "exorbitant prices" for sugar, was attributed as the cause for the reaction.

BIG BUSINESS MEN LIKELY TO BE SUMMONED

New York, May 22.—Several financiers and big business men, including John D. Rockefeller, Jr., may be called before the Lusk committee, which is investigating high prices in conjunction with its probe into radicalism in New York state, it was learned today.

The committee feels it is said that much valuable data on industrial unrest and constructive suggestions for betterment of the situation can be obtained from prominent financiers of the Rockefeller and Morgan type.

Henry P. Davison of the J. P. Morgan firm told the committee that the wastage of war was primarily responsible for the prevailing conditions. He declared that things could not go on as they have been without some sort of a break.

DYNAMITE SAFE

Corning, N. Y., May 22.—Yegmen dynamited the safe in the Corning Postoffice during the night, escaping with $250 in cash and several hundred dollars worth of stamps. An attempt to blow up the vault failed.

PLEA FOR ADOPTION OF LEAGION IS MADE BY LORD CECIL

London, May 22.—An ardent plea for the league of nations, in which he pointed out "the growing distrust of the British government" both at home and abroad, was made today by Lord Robert Cecil, M. P. chairman of the executive committee of the league.

Lord Robert, who has been one of the strongest European supporters of the league of nations since the idea took form in the peace conference, declared that the masses are firmly behind the proposal for a society of nations, even though the workers did not succeed in getting anything they wanted into the covenant.

The statesman admitted that the league of nations could not prevent war under present conditions, but he said that the machinery should have been utilized in an effort to prevent the present hostilities between Russia and Poland. He called upon the British government to put the strength of the empire behind the league and thus "lead the world."

Lord Robert's statement, which was made exclusively to the International News Service, follows:

"I am profoundly convinced that the present league of nations is quite ineffective for the purpose for which it was formed, namely, the prevention of war. But that does not mean that it cannot be made effective. I think it could be."

Grain and Pork Prices Drop.

Chicago, May 22.—Millions of bushels of grain were flung suddenly on the market by holders, who had become unnerved. Prices quivered and then collapsed. Wreckage of values totaled 13 1/2 cents a bushel on corn, 5 1/2 cents on oats and $1.75 a barrel on pork.

London, May 22.—Bulgarians are crossing into Turkey in large numbers and joining the Turks, who are preparing to resist the Greeks, according to a dispatch from Constantinople.

The new Thracian government at Adrianople has dismissed all the old officials.

Subgovernor Ekran Bey says Bulgarians will form the backbone of the forces opposing the Greeks, but he declared that Colonel Jafar Tatar, who was the Turkish commandant at Adrianople, has 20,000 Turkish soldiers available. Ekran Bey asserted that the French are permitting the Bulgarians to enter Turkey at will.

Turkish nationalists have seized the village of Koum Kaleh at the southern entrance to the Dardanelles and are either defeating the sultan's troops or are persuading them to desert to the army of Mustafa Kemal Pasha, the nationalist leader, at various points along the Sea of Marmora.

Anzevour Pasha, the only conspicuous supporter of the sultan in Anatolia, has been seriously wounded and his chief of staff hanged by nationalists near Koum. At Eski Ghehir and other points along the Anatolian railway the nationalists are bringing in unwilling recruits in groups of five or six with iron rings locked about their necks and connected up by chains with fellow shirkers. Frequently draft evaders have broken heads and bandaged arms and legs as a result of rough treatment by the guards. Only Moslems are conscripted, the nationalists declaring Christians to be untrustworthy.

Damad Ferid Pasha, the grand vizier, has gone to Ismid, where it is reported he will have a conference with some of the nationalist leaders from Angora, probably Djemal Ladine and Arif Bey.

There are many indications that French troops will evacuate Cilicia within four days and concentrate their forces in Syria. This would relieve a strained situation in Adana, Antab, Ourla and other points where Turks opposing French troops are operating outside of territory that will be under the French mandate for Syria.

Grain and Pork Prices Drop.

Chicago, May 22.—Millions of bushels of grain were flung suddenly on the market by holders, who had become unnerved. Prices quivered and then collapsed. Wreckage of values totaled 13 1/2 cents a bushel on corn, 5 1/2 cents on oats and $1.75 a barrel on pork.

Bill Hart, Movie Star, Injured.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 22.—William S. Hart, the film star, was seriously hurt. He has broken ribs, bruises and lacerations after being thrown from a horse in a film scene.

PEACE MEASURE PASSES IN HOUSE; IS UP TO WILSON

House Adapts Senate Substitute By Good Vote.

EXPECT WILSON VETO

Nine Democrats Join Republicans In Approval.

Washington, May 22.—The house adopted the senate peace resolution by a vote of 228 to 139.

The resolution now goes to the president and he is expected to veto it. The majority by which it was adopted indicates that a veto can not be overridden. Twenty Democrats joined with the house Republicans in adopting the resolution, while two Republicans, Kelley of Michigan and Fuller of Massachusetts, voted against it. Two Ohio Democrats, Ashbrook and Sherwood, voted for the resolution.

The house majority accepted the senate substitute for the original house peace resolution.

Representative Porter said in debate that passage of the resolution would "require the president to state whether or not he intends to relinquish the extraordinary powers vested in him by congress, as all our former wartime presidents have done after the termination of war, or if he intends to remain a dictator and use those drastic and obnoxious laws as a weapon to compel the senate to desert from its efforts to Americanize the treaty of peace."

Representative Huddleston, Democrat, Alabama, declared that President Wilson, by his letter to Oregon Democrats, had shown "an unshameful resolution to require the Democratic party at San Francisco to declare for the league of nations unchanged and unamended." Huddleston "protested" against such a policy and declared "the people would not stand for it." He urged that if the Democratic national convention approved Mr. Wilson's position he should be renominated for a third term.

Representative Griffin, Democrat, New York, charged that the Republicans knew the resolution would not establish peace and said the proposal was a subterfuge pushed publicly for partisan motives. "If congress is in earnest about bringing about peace it would act to repeal wartime legislation," he said.

Representative Flood declared no intelligent person "would contend that congress could open diplomatic relations with Germany, as proposed by the resolution." Democrats, he said, amid applause by his colleagues and the jeers of the Republicans, were willing to enter the campaign this year with the peace situation as an issue.

PLEA FOR ADOPTION OF LEAGUE IS MADE BY LORD CECIL

London, May 22.—An ardent plea for the league of nations, in which he pointed out "the growing distrust of the British government" both at home and abroad, was made today by Lord Robert Cecil, M. P., chairman of the executive committee of the league.

Lord Robert, who has been one of the strongest European supporters of the league of nations since the idea took form in the peace conference, declared that the masses are firmly behind the proposal for a society of nations, even though the workers did not succeed in getting anything they wanted into the covenant.

The statesman admitted that the league of nations could not prevent war under present conditions, but he said that the machinery should have been utilized in an effort to prevent the present hostilities between Russia and Poland. He called upon the British government to put the strength of the empire behind the league and thus "lead the world."

Lord Robert's statement, which was made exclusively to the International News Service follows:

"I am profoundly convinced that the present league of nations is quite ineffective for the purpose for which it was formed, namely, the prevention of war. But that does not mean that it cannot be made effective. I think it could be."

VETOS CHIROPRACTIC BILL.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 22.—Assemblyman D. H. Adams' bill designed to define and regulate the practice of chiropractic, was vetoed by Governor Smith today.

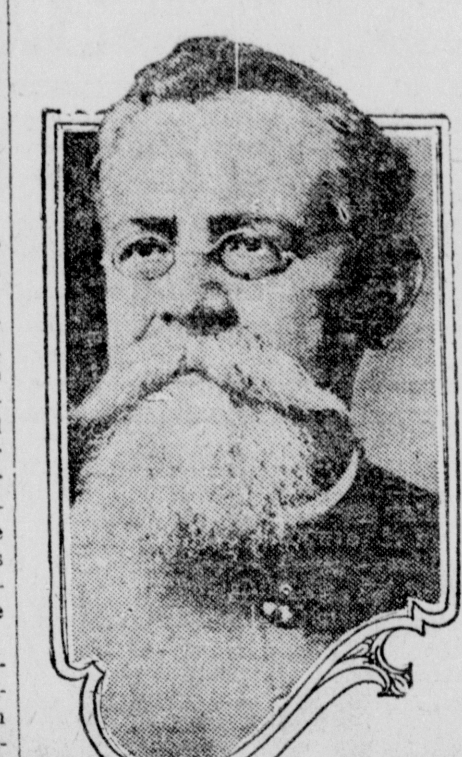

FLEEING PARTY KILLED BY BANDIT LEADER IN MOUNTAINS, REPORT

General Herrera Attacks Fugitive President In Order To Obtain Money Carried By Former Leader and Party.

REVOLUTION NOW AT END IT IS ANNOUNCED

Obregon Troops In Pursuit Of Herrera, Who, It Is Alleged Attacked Party Merely With Intention Of Robbery.

REPORTED DEAD

Venustiano Carranza as in his first year and had served as chief of state and president of Mexico for about six years. He came prominently into public affairs in Mexico, when he assumed leadership of the northern revolutionary forces that set out to depose Dictator Huerta in 1913. With the assistance of the rebel bands of Zapata and Villa, the Carranzistas waged relentless warfare against the troops supporting Huerta. In July 1914 Huerta resigned and fled from Mexico City and the revolutionists entered Mexico City.

Carranza proclaimed himself first chief of the constitutionalists in 1914 and ruled the Mexican republic from Mexico City and Querretaro until May 1917, when he was regularly elected. His term expired this year and one of the chief causes of the insurrection against him was his determination to make Ygnacio Bonillas, former Mexican ambassador to the United States, his successor.

RANSOM OF $50,000 DEMANDED BY VILLA FOR BRITISH CAPTIVE

Bandit Chief Holds Man Prisoner In His Camp.

Washington, May 22.—George Miller, a British subject, is held by Francisco Villa for $50,000 ransom, according to official advice to the state department from Chihuahua. He was superintendent of the Alvarado Milling and Mining company of Parral.

Miller and another mining man visited the bandit's camp at Boquilla, Chihuahua, several days ago, and Miller was detained and held for ransom, according to officials of the Alvarado Mining company. The other man was let go to make arrangements for the ransom, it was said.

A correspondent interviewed Villa at Boquilla May 18 and 19 and no evidence of the presence of Miller was discovered by him. Neither was mention made of Miller. Villa told the correspondent the only foreigners he had molested were some he forced to visit him for the purpose of obtaining information about outside affairs.

Sugar Prices Break.

New York, May 22.—Heavy general selling in the sugar futures market broke prices a cent a pound. Continued agitation against the high cost of living, together with the threat of leading preserving industries throughout the country to close rather than pay "exorbitant prices" for sugar, was attributed as the cause for the reaction.

Washington, May 22.—A report that Adolfo de la Huerta, governor of the state of Sonora, had been appointed provisional president of Mexico was not credited in official circles today. According to advices direct from Mexico City the Mexican congress decided to postpone the election of a provisional president until Monday. However, indications were that De la Huerta will be chosen.

Mexico City, Mex., May 22.—Venustiano Carranza, the fugitive president of Mexico, and six of his followers have been killed in a skirmish with revolutionary troops under General Rodolfo Herrera, a rebel leader, near Tlaxcoapan, in the southern part of the state of Hidalgo, according to officially confirmed advices received by General Alvaro Obregon today.

It is believed that Ygnacio Bonillas, former Mexican ambassador to the United States, who fled from Mexico City with Carranza, was among the others slain.

The revolutionary administration was advised that Carranza's body is being brought to this city.

One message said that Carranza had been killed at 1 o'clock Thursday morning, indicating that his forces had been taken by surprise in the night. Another message said that the fight took place on Friday.

The Carranza party were deep in the Sierra Madre mountains when the attack was made and were evidently attempting to reach the east coast.

Carranza accompanied by his ministers and a heavy force of troops fled from Mexico City on May 6. He took with him an immense amount of gold and silver money.

FORMERLY LEADER.

Herrera was formerly leader of a rebel faction known as Pellistae. He surrendered to the government several months ago while Carranza was still in power. Several columns of Obregonista troops are now reported to be in pursuit of Herrera.

While reports as to the skirmish near Tlaxcoapan differed as to details all agreed that Carranza had been killed. According to one report all the persons in Carranza's immediate party were put to death.

The first news of Carranza's death was contained in a message which said that the fighting had taken place near Huachinango in the state of Puebla. This was quickly followed by other reports to Obregon's headquarters which indicated that Herrera had attacked the Carranzistas to obtain money they were carrying, and not from political motives.

As Luis Cabrera, former minister of interior and Bonillas were known to be with Carranza, it was believed that both were killed by Herrera's rebel band.

General Obregon has issued a proclamation announcing that the revolution is now at an end and that the whole republic has been pacified.

The revolution succeeded without excessive bloodshed because the people and the army united in ousting Carranza, continued the proclamation. General Obregon accused the ex-president of creating a dictatorship and violating the constitution by attempting to make Bonillas president of the republic.

BIG BUSINESS MEN LIKELY TO BE SUMMONED

New York, May 22.—Several financiers and big business men, including John D. Rockefeller, Jr., may be called before the Lusk committee, which is investigating high prices in conjunction with its probe into radicalism in New York state, it was learned today. The committee feels, it is said, that much valuable data on industrial unrest and constructive suggestions for betterment of the situation can be obtained from prominent financiers of the Rockefeller and Morgan type.

Henry P. Davidson of the J. P. Morgan firm told the committee that the wastage of war was primarily responsible for the prevailing conditions. He declared that things could not go on as they have been without some sort of a break.

CONFESS TO THEFTS OF FIVE MACHINES

Harry Scheen and Edward Schepers, arrested in Columbus for Dayton automobiles, and bound over to the grand jury there yesterday under $5,000 bond on charges of stealing automobiles, have confessed that they took five cars, among them being the Chalmers chummy car owned by Lawrence Faulkner of near this city, which was stolen in Dayton several months ago.

The men admitted that they had been employed by George A. Hess, arrested in Cincinnati, and bound over to the Cincinnati grand jury on a charge of running a fence and operating a gang of auto thieves, to steal cars for which they received $15 and $25 apiece. They confessed that one car had been taken in 1919 and four in 1918.

The total value of cars taken was $13,000. A Stutz, valued at $2,500, and belonging to A. B. Gates, Hotel Miami, was stolen by the men, and they admitted also to theft of a Cadillac valued at $5,000 and belonging to N. S. Talbot, besides the Chalmers stolen from Mr. Faulkner. They also admitted stealing a Stutz worth $3,500 from Robert Elder on March 30.

"We took it to Cincinnati but Hess refused to accept it because it was too new," said Schepers. "He told us to give it some hard use, which we did by driving it about 3,000 miles. He then took the car."

The Sunshine Society will hold an all day meeting in the basement of the court house, Tuesday, at 10 o'clock. Bring articles with which to work.

CEDARVILLE

The students of Cedarville college seminary gave a banquet to the faculty, girls, Board of Examiners Monday evening at the home of Miss Clara Morton. A three course dinner was served. The out of town guests present were, Rev. and Mrs. William Wade, of India, Rev. Thomas Whyte, of Philadelphia, Pa., Rev. L. A. Benson, of Clay Center, Kansas, Rev. Ralph S. Elder, of Sparta, Ill., and Rev. James L. Chelstnut, of Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Rife, of the river road, entertained the Freshman class of Cedarville College, Wednesday evening.

The wedding of Miss Eula Tarbox and Rev. Robert Coleman took place Wednesday morning at six thirty at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Will Barber. Rev. J. P. White, the bride's pastor, performed the ceremony. Rev. and Mrs. Coleman left immediately after the ceremony for Pittsburgh, where he will attend the meeting of General Synod.

Dr. W. R. McChesney, Rev. W. P. Harriman, Rev. James Chesnut, Rev. F. A. Benson, Rev. Ralph Elder and Rev. Thomas Whyte left Wednesday morning for Pittsburgh, where they will attend the meeting of the General Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian church.

DRIVEN FROM A FLAT

Mr. W. M. Fellers, who lived in Lima, Ohio, was compelled to move out of a flat because of his wife's ill health. The neighbors complained that they were annoyed and distressed by Mrs. Fellers' continued coughing. They believing her to have tuberculosis, asked the owner of the flat to have her move because of the danger to the other occupants.

Mrs. Fellers had taken cold which hung on and developed into serious bronchial trouble, she doctored but found no relief until she used Glando Pine. She says: "The first dose seemed to relieve me. Two bottles removed the cough entirely. I have gained in flesh and am just fine. My friends now tell me they never expected to see me out again."

To prevent a cough from developing into pneumonia, bronchitis or consumption use Glando Pine the same cough medicine Mrs. Fellers used. 3 oz. (50 cents worth) of Glando Pine mixed with any good syrup or honey will make one pint or 128 tea-spoon's full of excellent cough medicine. Every family should keep this valuable cough medicine on hand to use at the first indication of a cough or cold. May be given to very young children. They love to take it.

M. M. EARNHART DIES; 80 YEARS OLD

M. M. Earnhart, aged 80 years, a life long resident of Greene and Warren counties, died at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Josiah Davis, south of Roxana. His death was due to complications resulting from a fall which he received four weeks ago, when his chest was injured, but he was thought to be improving, and the end was unexpected. He was at the home of his granddaughter, Mrs. Howard Hurley near New Burlington, when the accident occurred, and later was removed to the home of his daughter.

Mr. Earnhart was born July 8, 1840, in Warren county. His wife died six years ago last October, and he is survived by two sons and two daughters.

23 AUTO TRUCKS PASS THROUGH CITY

Twenty-three trucks in parade passed through this city Saturday shortly before noon, representing Dayton's celebration of national "ship by truck" week.

The trucks have been campaigning this section all week. Friday they were in Springfield, and went from there to Cedarville Saturday morning, coming to this city from the latter town.

The trucks were escorted by several passenger cars carrying officials of the "ship by truck" celebration and here signs showing the meaning of the parade. One Maxwell truck carried an orchestra piano included, and played while passing through the streets here.

The truck parade returned from here to Dayton where the parade ends.

INSURANCE MAY BE REINSTATED

The Director of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance announces that regardless of how long a service man's insurance has lapsed or been canceled and regardless of how long he has been discharged from the service, a special ruling permits him to reinstate it at any time before July 1, 1920 upon application and payment of only two monthly premiums on the amount of insurance he wishes to reinstate, together with a satisfactory statement of health.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY RECEIVED BY MRS. WEST

Mrs. R. C. West opened her home on West Main street, to members of the Missionary society of the Presbyterian church Friday afternoon. Assisting her in extending hospitalities were Miss Carrie Allison, Mrs. D. B. Watt and Mrs. O. A. Spahr.

The program was very entertaining, papers being read by Mrs. Harry D. Smith, Mrs. Harry C. Armstrong and Mrs. A. C. Messenger. Tea and cakes were served by the hostesses to the twenty women who enjoyed the afternoon.

COUPLE MARRIED IN CINCINNATI; NEWS PRECEDES ARRIVAL

Expecting to keep the news secret for a time and surprise their friends, Harry Hagler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawson Hagler of the Hook road, and Miss Clara Metzger of Wilmington went down to Cincinnati Friday morning, to be married.

News of their marriage preceded them back however, and when Mr. Hagler reached his home Saturday morning, he found his parents in possession of the knowledge that he had taken a bride during his absence.

Young Mrs. Hagler is at the home of her parents in Wilmington.

Mr. Hagler told his parents Friday that he intended going to Dayton on a business trip, and when he did not return home in the evening, they attached no importance to the fact. A reporter informed them Saturday morning, before his return, that their son had been married.

Mrs. Hagler is a member of a prominent Wilmington family, and has many friends among the young people in Xenia.

DOG BITES GIRL; NOT SERIOUS

Eileen Sayre, 5 year old daughter of H. L. Sayre, was bitten on the leg by a small dog belonging to Jas. Lewis of West Second street, Friday evening. The wound was a mere scratch. It is not believed that the dog has rabies, but that it was merely cross and snapped at the little girl as she skated past on roller skates. Dr. R. H. Grube, city health officer, ordered the dog confined to await developments. The Lewis family said that the dog had been kept tied in the back yard, and that it broke loose and ran out in front about the time that the child was passing.

Some people are reading the classified ads today who never before imagined them important.

COAL DUST LODGED IN MINER'S LUNGS

Tells how his cough was conquered and health restored.

"In November, 1916, I was working in a coal mine and the doctors said the coal dust had settled in my lungs. I couldn't lie down on my right side, coughed so I couldn't sleep and had constant pain in my right lung and under my shoulder blades. I coughed so hard the blood would spurt out of my nose. Finally the doctors had me change climate and live outdoors, but didn't improve.

"Then I came home and started on Milks Emulsion. Thank God, I did, as it did me a lot of good right from the start, loosening up the coal dust in my right lung. In a few weeks my lungs were free. I could sleep like a baby, had an excellent appetite and my cough left me entirely. I gained back 30 pounds in weight and went back to work in the mines completely restored to health."

G. H. Bunn, 6th Ave. & No. 13th St., Terre Haute, Ind.

Thousands of victims of dust-filled air, develop the same trouble that Mr. Bunn had. Milks Emulsion costs nothing to try, so why not at least try it?

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. It helps build flesh and strength, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.

Willard STORAGE BATTERY

Willard Threaded Rubber Insulation

REMEMBER!

Batteries may be starved to death. Batteries may die of thirst. Batteries may be injured by overheating. Batteries may freeze to death in winter. Any battery will ultimately wear out. Willard Service can help you avoid all but the last.

Why You Pay More

Threaded Rubber Insulation increases the cost of manufacturing this battery. It is a more expensive material to begin with, and the process by which it is pierced with an enormous number of tiny threads (to make it porous) adds another item of cost.

But it means that the job is done right and doesn't have to be done over.

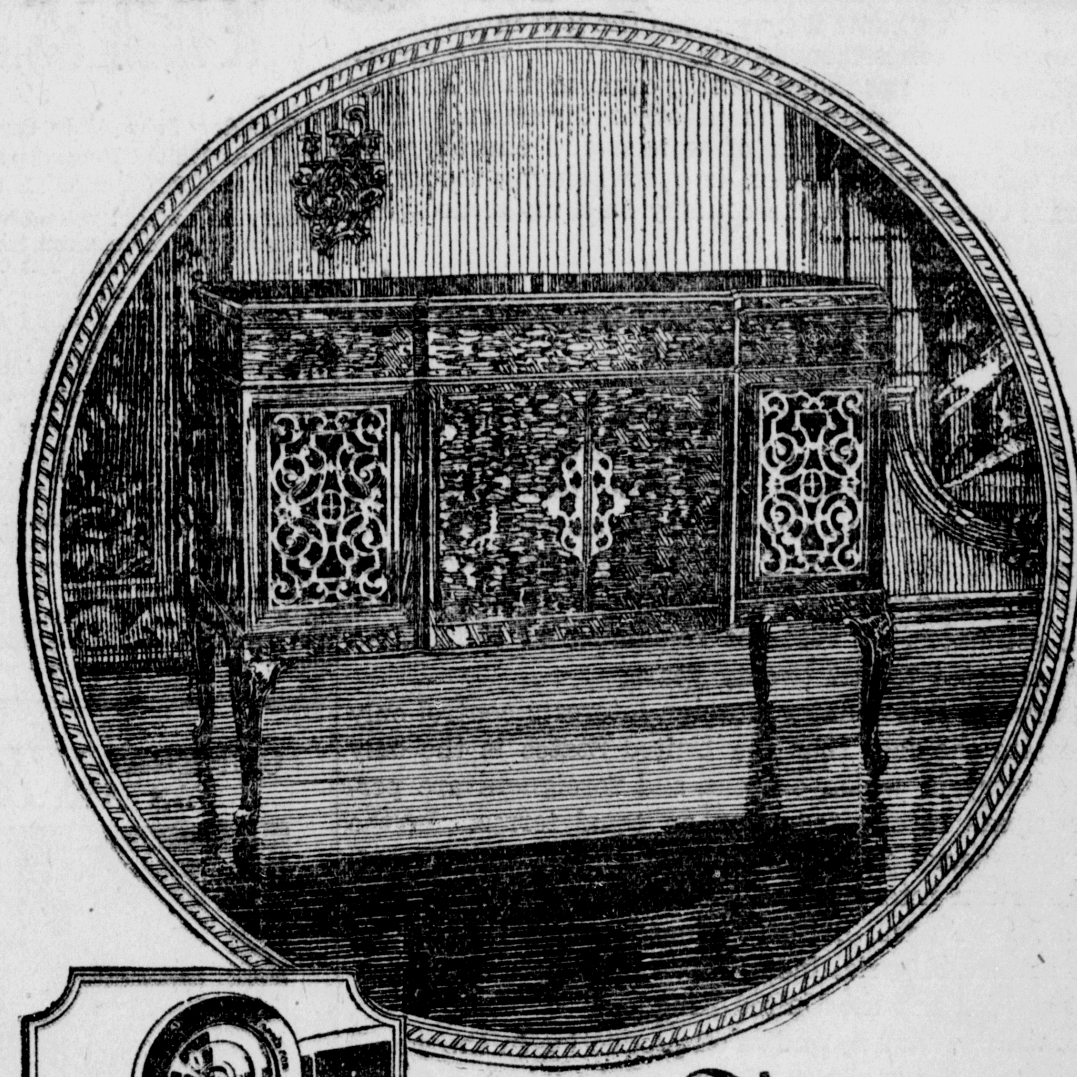

Replacing worn-out insulation is an expensive job, to say nothing of inconvenience, and almost invariably happens to a battery with ordinary insulation before its plates are worn out.

Why it Costs Less

It always costs the owner less when the necessary durability is built into any part of a battery at the start. That's true in this case—for when ordinary insulation is replaced it may already have caused injury to other parts of the battery and shortened its life. A battery has just two "wearing parts"—plates and insulation. Threaded Rubber Insulation, therefore, removes half the occasion for wear and replacement. It is the only form of insulation that permits "bone dry" shipment and storage of batteries—positively without a drop of moisture in them.

ALMOST CERTAIN THAT THE COMING REPUBLICAN NATIONAL PLATFORM WILL BE BONE DRY.

There does not seem to be much secrecy about two of the leading planks that are to go into the Republican National Platform which is to be proclaimed at the National Convention which assembles at Chicago on June 8th. The great conference of Republican leaders, 171 master builders of the party, which closed its session of two days at Washington this week has settled the matter.

All that the resolutions committee at the Chicago convention now has to do, apparently, is to boil down into hundreds of words, for platform purposes, the tens of thousands of chunks of wisdom submitted by the experts. The experts, in conclave assembled in Washington, disagreed, as experts always do, but they got together on vital points.

Advocacy of a League of Nations disguised under a name less provocative of controversy, and enforcement of the prohibition law will be the keynote planks of the Republican platform in 1920. So much can be authoritatively forecast.

It now is certain that the plank adopted last week by the Indiana Republican convention will be submitted to the national convention as the official formula for meeting the treaty situation. The plank advocates the institution of a "world court" for arbitration of international disputes and international deliberations about reduction of armaments. It advocates, in short, a league of nations without calling it by that name.

The party hierarchy at the national capital agreed that Indiana could well be clothed with the distinction of fathering the keynote plank. The state is important from the Republican standpoint and the convention met at a psychological moment.

Unless circumstances now entirely unforeseen intervene the Republican party at Chicago will take its stand squarely on prohibition. The platform will be dry, unreservedly. It will view the issue as having been settled by the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead enforcement act. It will imply that the liquor question, having been constitutionally settled, has for the time being been removed from the realm of practical politics.

The Republican leaders have not taken that decision without counting the cost. They know it may mean the loss in November of great metropolitan constituencies like New York, with notoriously wet tendencies or large radical voting communities. But they believe there will be compensations in other directions. They think in particular that the votes of women and church goers will be cast for the Republican ticket in overwhelming thousands if the Democrats dare to go to the country on a moistened platform.

FORTY PER CENT OF OUR PRODUCING OIL FIELDS SAID TO BE EXHAUSTED.

Interest of the United States in the race for the oil supply of the world as embodied in the report of the State Department submitted by President Wilson to the Senate, has arisen from the alarming depletion of oil reserves in this country. While the nation contributes 69 per cent of the oil supply of the world, 40 per cent of its producing fields have been exhausted and, according to official estimates, oil reserves remaining in the United States are not expected to last twenty years.

Of the reserve in this country, foreign interests control only 4 per cent, despite the fact that the United States is the only oil-producing country in which citizens and foreigners are permitted to participate in oil production on equal terms. In the face of this "open-door" oil policy pursued in this country, officials said, American interests are excluded in Australia, Barbadoes, British East Africa, British Guinea, Burma, Dutch East Indies, Egypt, France, Algeria, India, Japan, Mesopotamia, Palestine; Persia; Trinidad and the United Kingdom.

In Mexico, which ranks second in oil production in the world, and thereby controls the "balance of power," American concerns hold controlling interest in 60 per cent of producing fields.

Potential interests of the British, however, have shown a steady increase throughout the world since 1914. At the beginning of the war British control was estimated at only 2 per cent, while today the British admiralty is said to reckon it at 56 per cent.

The strongest intrenchment undertaken by the British, officials indicated, has been in the Baku area of the Russian Trans-Caucasus where British troops were stationed from the armistice until the recent occupation by the Bolsheviks.

SAVING AT THE BUNGHOLE.

It seems almost too good to be true that the Public Printer has taken advantage of his privilege and has shut down on printing special editions of campaign speeches for the benefit of Congressmen. The Printer does this in order to conserve paper, but the direct results should prove more or less of a moral boon to the country. It is too much to hope, however, that this decision, coming on the eve of a Presidential campaign, means that we are to have an entire new deal in this matter of public printing for purely private purposes and that the abuse of the Congressional frank for campaign purposes is to be relegated to the junk heap of discredited and useless methods of carrying on political campaigns. In the past, both national campaign committees have made extensive use of the franking privilege. Poor Uncle Sam has almost broken down under the weight of tons and tons of speeches, documents and platforms sent country-wide for purely partisan and personal purposes and carried at the expense of the taxpayer. The fact that everybody did it has never recommended the practice. If economic reasons of a purely utilitarian character, therefore, shall bring about a partial reform, the country will surely find out, as will the candidates and the party chiefs, that if nothing has been done so much energy wasted to such insignificant results as through this "leave to print," followed up by the "leave to circulate" free of charge by means of the Congressional frank, that has swamped the mails and filled the waste-paper baskets every four years since this easy way of party

DER TAG.

WHEN a panic comes and swats us, bringing forty kinds of woe, and the sheriff comes and trots us to the court where bankrupts go, then we'll wonder, oh, we'll wonder, why, in booming, bulging times, when the trees were growing plunder, we refused to save some dimes. When the panic that's predicted by the wise men everywhere, comes along, and we're afflicted with a poor house bill of fare, then we'll do some idle raving, and we'll kick ourselves a verst, for we didn't do our saving when the boom was at its worst. Now that everything seems sunny, and our chances are the best, it's the time to put some money, with some mothballs, in a chest; put it down with cedar shavings, so the insects won't annoy; for the man who has his savings in the wisest kind of boy. Soon this crazy boom may trundle to the tomb, in ghostly robe; then the man who has a bundle is the man who'll ride the globe.

Heart and Home Problems

It's high time that Benny Leonard came out in the open as a welterweight and quit masquerading as a lightweight.

Benny owes it to himself and the general boxing public which has given him the chance to amass a fortune in a few short years.

Benny is no longer a legitimate lightweight. He can't hide the fact. The mere fact that he hasn't attempted to make the weight for the best boys in the lightweight class indicates this—and Benny's appearance shows it more clearly. He has filled out considerably since he won the title.

This little essay is not written with the intent to grow up. Leonard's showing as a lightweight or cast a cloud on his prowess as king in that division. Benny won the title as a real lightweight and licked one of the great little boys of the game's history to win the title. He startled the fistic world when he knocked out Freddy Welsh, May 28, 1917, in the ninth round. It was no fluke affair. He bested Welsh from the starting bell. And he defended the title against all comers.

He took on Johnny Kilbane, accredited with being the most scientific fighter in featherweight history, and knocked Johnny out. This bout gave Leonard even more chance to show his speed, skill and nerve.

But Benny was young—still is. He kept right on growing while fighting. The only alleged lightweight who now stacks up near Leonard in weight is Dundee, Tendler, Jackson and the other real contenders for the title realize that they must concede several pounds if they let Leonard come in at catch weights and—as stated above—Leonard doesn't care to make the weight.

A second fortune awaits Leonard in the welterweight division. Two bouts alone would net him said bankful. First, a bout with Ted Lewis, former welter champ. It's a cinch bet that Leonard could dispose of him. Then a bout with Britton would be the next logical bout. And it is the firm belief of many critics that Leonard, young and going good, could make Britton go the limit to defend the crown he now wears.

This move of Benny's would give the boxing fans something new and interesting. There has been a lot of discussion since Benny stepped out of the legitimate lightweight poundage as to what he could do with the leading welter.

Leonard is now devoting his time to the popular sport of champions—playing the hero in motion picture films. He is expected to return east from the Pacific coast soon, however, and perhaps he'll greet his hometown fans in New York with the news that he has stepped into the welter class.

Here's hoping.

Pitchers Leon Cadore and Joe Oeschger, who opposed each other in the record breaking twenty-six innings tie between the Robins and Braves, have received letters from President Heydler of the National league lauding them for the great pitching in the memorable contest. Those who visit the offices of the National league chief executive will always be reminded of the remarkable battle as President Heydler is going to have the box score of the game framed and it will be placed between photos of the two hurlers. It will be hung in Heydler's office.

Billy Papke, one-time middleweight champion, warns Benny Leonard not to tackle Mike O'Dowd, middleweight title holder until recently. Papke's argument is that no good lightweight can stand up against a star middleweight. Evidently Billy is one of the few who still consider Benny a lightweight.

REV. J. A. ORR, CEDARVILLE ALUMNUS, WILL GIVE ADDRESS AT COMMENCEMENT FRIDAY

The Rev. John Alvin Orr, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, Northside, Pittsburgh, an alumnus of Cedarville college, will deliver the address at the commencement exercises of that school which will be held Friday morning, June 2.

Eleven graduates will be given degrees and diplomas of graduation. The festivities of the commencement season opened Thursday night with the entertainment which was given by the college Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. in the Cedarville opera house. A feature of the program was a senior "stunt" showing a retrospective fifty years hence. Miss Eloise Davis and Wilbur White, representing a couple who had been married fifty years, took up a catalogue of Cedarville college, and turning back to the class of 1920, spoke of each member. As their names were called, the class appeared in a frame which was placed on the stage.

A group of young men and women, dressed in Highland costume, also made a big "hit" in their feature, the singing of Scotch songs.

The annual Junior-Senior reception will take place Friday night May 28, Sunday evening, May 30, at 7 o'clock President W. R. McChesney of the college will deliver the baccalaureate address in the Reformed Presbyterian church. The Senior class play will be given Monday evening, May 31. The title of the play is "The Private Secretary."

The faculty reception to the seniors will take place in the college library Tuesday evening, June 1.

At 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, June 2, the department of vocal music

The annual meeting of the college trustees will occur Thursday morning, June 3, at 9 o'clock. The annual college banquet will take place Thursday at 6 o'clock in the library.

The alumni association will hold its annual meeting at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, following commencement.

The degree of Bachelor of Arts will be conferred by the college upon: Samuel Morton Creswell, Reba Irene Harrison, Ellen Elizabeth Tarbox, of Cedarville; Rebecca Faye Marsh, Owenville, O.; Dorothy Smithson, Peebles, O.; Norman Baird Foster, Warren, O.

Mrs. Anna O. Wilson, Ph. B., Cedarville, will be given the degree of Master of Arts.

The Rev. Thomas Whyte, of Philadelphia, will be given the degree of Bachelor of Divinity.

The Rev. Robert Nichol Coleman, Fairview, Penn., will receive a diploma of graduation from the Reformed Presbyterian Theological Seminary.

Miss Dorothy Olesbee of Cedarville will receive a diploma of graduation from the voice and piano sections of the music department, and Miss Mary Hester Townsley, Cedarville, will be graduated from the piano department.

Funeral services for Miss Evelyn Galloway, will be held at the home on West Main street at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon. Friends may call after 2 o'clock Sunday. Owing to the absence from the city of the Rev. J. O. C. McCracken, pastor of the Galloway family, the Rev. George S. Macaulay, of Baltimore, a former pastor, will come to officiate at the services.

Notice For Parole

Notice is hereby given that Joe Hicks, a prisoner now confined in the Ohio State Reformatory, Mansfield, Ohio, is entitled, under the law and rules governing paroles from said institution, to recommendation to the Board of Clemency, by the Superintendent and Chaplain as worthy of consideration for parole.

ALMOST CERTAIN THAT THE COMING REPUBLICAN NATIONAL PLATFORM WILL BE BONE DRY.

There does not seem to be much secrecy about two of the leading planks that are to go into the Republican National Platform which is to be proclaimed at the National Convention which assembles at Chicago on June 8th. The great conference of Republican leaders, 171 master builders of the party, which closed its session of two days at Washington this week has settled the matter.

All that the resolutions committee at the Chicago convention now has to do, apparently, is to boil down into hundreds of words, for platform purposes, the tens of thousands of chunks of wisdom submitted by the experts. The experts, in conclave assembled in Washington, disagreed, as experts always do, but they got together on vital points.

Advocacy of a League of Nations disguised under a name less provocative of controversy, and enforcement of the prohibition law will be the keynote planks of the Republican platform in 1920. So much can be authoritatively forecast.

It now is certain that the plank adopted last week by the Indiana Republican convention will be submitted to the national convention as the official formula for meeting the treaty situation. The plank advocates the institution of a "world court" for arbitration of international disputes and international deliberations about reduction of armaments. It advocates, in short, a league of nations without calling it by that name.

The party hierarchy at the national capital agreed that Indiana could well be clothed with the distinction of fathering the keynote plank. The state is important from the Republican standpoint and the convention met at a psychological moment.

Unless circumstances now entirely unforeseen intervene the Republican party at Chicago will take its stand squarely on prohibition. The platform will be dry, unreservedly. It will view the issue as having been settled by the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead enforcement act. It will imply that the liquor question, having been constitutionally settled, has for the time being been removed from the realm of practical politics.

The Republican leaders have not taken that decision without counting the cost. They know it may mean the loss in November of great metropolitan constituencies like New York, with notoriously wet tendencies or large radical voting communities. But they believe there will be compensations in other directions. They think in particular that the votes of women and church goers will be cast for the Republican ticket in overwhelming thousands if the Democrats dare to go to the country on a moistened platform.

FORTY PER CENT OF OUR PRODUCING OIL FIELDS SAID TO BE EXHAUSTED.

Interest of the United States in the race for the oil supply of the world as embodied in the report of the State Department submitted by President Wilson to the Senate, has arisen from the alarming depletion of oil reserves in this country. While the nation contributes 69 per cent of the oil supply of the world, 40 per cent of its producing fields have been exhausted and, according to official estimates, oil reserves remaining in the United States are not expected to last twenty years.

Of the reserve in this country, foreign interests control only 4 per cent, despite the fact that the United States is the only oil-producing country in which citizens and foreigners are permitted to participate in oil production on equal terms. In the face of this "open-door" oil policy pursued in this country, officials said, American interests are excluded in Australia, Barbadoes, British East Africa, British Guinea, Burma, Dutch East Indies, Egypt, France, Algeria, India, Japan, Mesopotamia, Palestine; Persia; Trinidad and the United Kingdom.

In Mexico, which ranks second in oil production in the world, and thereby controls the "balance of power," American concerns hold controlling interest in 60 per cent of producing fields.

Potential interests of the British, however, have shown a steady increase throughout the world since 1914. At the beginning of the war British control was estimated at only 2 per cent, while today the British admiralty is said to reckon it at 56 per cent.

The strongest intrenchment undertaken by the British, officials indicated, has been in the Baku area of the Russian Trans-Caucasus where British troops were stationed from the armistice until the recent occupation by the Bolsheviks.

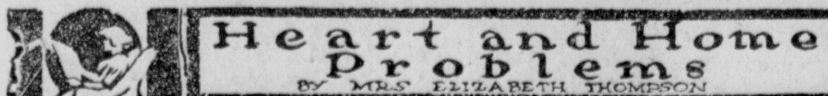

SAVING AT THE BUNGHOLE.

It seems almost too good to be true that the Public Printer has taken advantage of his privilege and has shut down on printing special editions of campaign speeches for the benefit of Congressmen. The Printer does this in order to conserve paper, but the direct results should prove more or less of a moral boon to the country. It is too much to hope, however, that this decision, coming on the eve of a Presidential campaign, means that we are to have an entire new deal in this matter of public printing for purely private purposes and that the abuse of the Congressional frank for campaign purposes is to be relegated to the junk heap of discredited and useless methods of carrying on political campaigns. In the past, both national campaign committees have made extensive use of the franking privilege. Poor Uncle Sam has almost broken down under the weight of tons and tons of speeches, documents and platforms sent country-wide for purely partisan and personal purposes and carried at the expense of the taxpayer. The fact that everybody did it has never recommended the practice. If economic reasons of a purely utilitarian character, therefore, shall bring about a partial reform, the country will surely find out, as will the candidates and the party chiefs, that if nothing has there been so much energy wasted to such insignificant results as through this "leave to print" followed up by the "leave to circulate" free of charge by means of the Congressional frank, that has swamped the mails and filled the waste-paper baskets every four years since this easy way of party

MARKET AND FINANCIAL NEWS

MARKET TREND STOCKS

After the recent period of dullness and vacillation, with professionals alone participating in the stock market, a definite upward turn has been more than once forecast, contingent upon some favorable development in the credit situation, and the pronounced weakness in Liberty Bonds have kept the list under constant restraint, preventing any bullish movement. The feeling persists nevertheless that the market has been oversold and that many stocks are selling for less than their intrinsic worth.

April financing was the heaviest on record for this month. With large demands for movement of the crops impending, an abundant supply of money is not in prospect. The banks' discouragement of unnecessary borrowing will afford some relief, as corporations and individuals who do not need loans impartially will cease making application.

GRAIN

Sentiment has favored a somewhat lower range of values in the grain market, largely owing to the necessity for liquidating stocks held on the farms, the weakness in Liberty Bonds as indicative of the general credit situation, price cutting by department stores, reports of slackening in industry, and last but not least efforts of the Interstate Commerce Commission to increase the available supply of cars in the grain belt and the apparent intention to give the movement of grain preference. Receipts artificially limited by the car shortage and switchmen's strike have been the main support of prices. For three months corn has been climbing actively and has recorded gains of 60 to 70c. Crops prospects have brightened recently. Not improbably the turn has come, although the market will assuredly retain a considerable element of strength.

LIVESTOCK

Fat cattle have been the conspicuous point of weakness in the livestock market. Growers are selling continually at heavy losses. The demand for heavy beef does not increase. Calves have reached the season's low point, market critics think, but rapid recovery is improbable. Hogs have pursued a fairly even course. Receipts have been liberal, as western railroads moved in the accumulations of the embargo period. Live mutton has suffered by reason of the heavy importations of frozen meat from abroad.

AGRICULTURE

Farmers Welcome Efforts Made to Facilitate Grain Movement—Fertilizer Companies Have Difficulty in Making Deliveries—Tax is Aimed at Agriculture. Country bankers and farmers rejoice in the assurance that the Federal Reserve banks will furnish funds to move the winter wheat crop. The railroad strike has tied up large sums in last year's crops held on the farms and agricultural needs of the new season find the money market in a very strained condition. Northwestern and southwestern banks report that the maximum of credit has already been extended to help carry old crop surpluses and that new crop demands will cause serious embarrassment unless there can be liquidation in the meantime.

Farmers are cheered by the special efforts which the Interstate Commerce Commission is making to increase the car supply available for the movement of grain. Market prices have been artificially stimulated by the car famine and light receipts resulting. While a more liberal movement will tend to weaken prices it can hardly be large enough to knock the stays from under present market levels. The farmer will benefit.

Freight Tieup Interferes

The freight tieup has interfered with spring delivery of fertilizers. Unless fertilizer stocks remaining can be put in the farmer's hands by early June at the latest, the value for the present season will be practically lost. Fortunately traffic conditions have hampered distribution in the South, which depends largely upon fertilizers, much less than in the North. The demand is insatiable and the manufacturers should not be handicapped by the scarcity. Top dressing has been suggested in preference to use which consume a larger quantity of fertilizer.

Our Budget Plan

A 50 per cent increase in freight rates is altogether probable if the brotherhoods gain acquiescence in their demands for a minimum wage of $2,500 per year for all railroad employees. Textile operatives, building tradesmen, and other groups are clamoring for higher wages and the end is not in sight. With farm labor in a like dissatisfied mood, the farm owner finds himself in a serious predicament. The reduced acreage planted to beans and potatoes, as well as damage suffered by the winter wheat crop and the vigorous world demand for cereals, suggest a higher level of prices for farm products next year.

Our Budget Plan

In casting about for means of raising revenue, either in addition to or as a substitute for that raised by the excess profits and corporation income tax, members of Congress have carefully surveyed the different groups of producers and distributors. The farmer is made the special object of taxation in the Nolan bill, which lays a one per cent tax on landhold in excess of $10,000 valuation. Like other groups the farmer is loth to assume that portion of him by this or any other measure until he is convinced that rival groups are taxed for a proportionate amount. The task of apportioning the war taxes is a very difficult one, and the legislators should find the business man, the farmer, and the wage and salary earner each willing to do his share, while demand rigid economy in government expenditures.

England has decided to include farm labor in the 48-hour week under a minimum wage amounting to $10.22 per week. The National Agricultural Workers' Union has never sought to restrict the hours of farm labor to 48 in all seasons of the year, but wishes to secure adequate pay for work done in excess of the minimum

Nonexpensive—Cut This Out.

Thousands are making this beneficial remedy at home and anyone who has catarrh or a cold can do the same. Ask your druggist for three quarters of an ounce of Mentholated Astringent and pour it into a pint bottle, then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled. Gargle the throat as directed and snuff or spray the liquid into the nostrils twice daily. It's a simple way to get rid of cold and catarrh and keeps the nasal passage and throat so clean and healthy that germs of flu or any other germs will have a hard time gaining a foothold.

REPORTS OF VIOLENCE IN MICHIGAN ARE BEING INVESTIGATED

Saginaw, Mich., May 22.—Acting under instructions from Governor Sleeper, Captain March, head of the state constabulary, is in the beet sugar district in this section today investigating reports of the burning and dynamiting of several farm houses occupied by sugar farmers because of the rumors of alleged night riders in an attempt to intimidate the workers who have refused to join the strike against the sugar association in protest against unfair prices in the 1920 crop contracts.

During the last week reports have reached county authorities that a house, near Hemlock owned by a sugar planter and housing a sugar worker, was dynamited on May 8, and the workers frightened out of the community and several houses occupied by sugar workers in other part of the sugar growing district around Elkton have been burned. Governor Sleeper ordered an investigation and said that if it was necessary he would order the state constabulary to patrol the district to protect workers.

W. S. Wallace, general manager of the Michigan Sugar Company, declared today there is no justification for the reports of violence in this locality.

Beauty Chats

Possibly some of my readers who are trying to reduce, and who do not want to learn the tables of calories which will enable them to reduce scientifically, would like to know of some dishes which will not add flesh.

These given today are not fattening at all, and are healthy, particularly at this time of the year.

Rhubarb—Stewed and sweetened with saccharine. However, if you put only a little sugar in, it won't be so very fattening, for there is quite a bit of acid in rhubarb. Only don't make it so sweet, the juice is like molasses. As a matter of fact, I believe it is healthier slightly acid; it cleans the stomach and purifies the blood.

Spinach—This has no fat in it, but all sorts of other valuable ingredients. It is rich in vitamins, the element of food that gives life and that makes children grow, and it has mineral salts in it which the system needs. It tastes particularly good if it is stewed soft, the water poured off, and the rest run through a meat chopper. A hard boiled egg sliced over the top makes it look tempting. Also, it makes a novel and delicious salad if it is made into small patties, with a little vinegar, salt and pepper added.

Asparagus—The caloric value is so low as to be negligible. But don't make this fattening by eating it with Hollandaise or with butter sauce. Asparagus can be cut into small pieces and boiled and served as a vegetable, or it can be boiled and served in long, unbroken, thick stalks.

Fresh Tomatoes—For stewing, for salads, for garnishing. These taste as fresh and delicious as they look, and are excellent food and not a bit fattening.

Perplexed—A girl just five feet tall, 12 years old, should weigh about 98 pounds.

C. W. C.—A woman 34, five feet 8 inches tall in her stocking feet, should weigh 147, and can even weigh less and look well.

Constant Reader—A girl five feet 4 inches tall should weigh about 122 pounds when she is 15. These are insurance table statistics, and they allow a generous amount of weight. You are quite thin. Perhaps you do not eat enough; if you seem to eat very much less than other girls your age, force yourself to eat a very little more each day. You can increase your capacity as well as your appetite, you know.

R. C. E.—An average weight for a young girl five feet one is 115 pounds

"BRINGING UP FATHER"

POSSE CAPTURES
BANDITS AND LOOT

Howe, Neb., May 22.—Three bandits who robbed the state bank here late yesterday of $2,000 in cash and $6,000 in liberty bonds and made their escape in an automobile after an exchange of shots with bank officials, were overtaken at Bean Lake, Mo., by Atchison, Kansas, deputies at 10 o'clock Friday night. In the shooting fray that followed, three bandits were shot, two of them probably fatally. The third bandit escaped to the hills with a bullet in his shoulder. Poses are scouring the hills in search of him. All of the money and liberty bonds were recovered. Two of the bandits have been identified as Harry Maynard, St. Louis, Mo., and Walter Bradford, Kansas City. The one who escaped is said to be Eddie Lancaster, also of Kansas City.

SPANISH WOMEN URGE THAT SANDALS REPLACE SHOES

A movement by which the people would be urged to wear hempen sandals instead of leather shoes has been started by the women in Spain to compel shoe dealers to cut excessive prices. Dispatches from the provinces state the idea is spreading throughout the country, and that literary, theatrical, military and social clubs are subscribing large funds to purchase shoes at wholesale in order to resell them to members at low prices next winter. Mrs. M. Van Bell, of Covington, Ky., is said to be the only woman United States court commissioner in America. She is serving her third consecutive term and is now in her ninth year of service. She has presided over every sort of case which comes to the attention of the Federal Court, excepting murder. She has heard cases of bank robberies, embezzlements, moonshiners and bootleggers, the latter gentry being more prominent now that prohibition is supposed to be in effect.

Many violators of the espionage law come under her care during the war years when that law was so strict. Her home, Covington, is the headquarters of the American Protective League, which did more than any other agency to stamp out unpatriotic movements.

Mrs. Bell is a widow and has two sons, David, who served two years overseas, with the famous "Cyclone division" and Thomas, who graduates from high school next month. Besides being United States commissioner, Mrs. Bell is also deputy clerk of the district federal court.

Still Seized. Chillicothe, O., May 22.—Federal officers arrested Benjamin Bellamy and seized a complete still outfit, which they claim he was using in the manufacture of "mountain dew." Several barrels of whisky were confiscated.

Killed While Blasting Stumps. Ottawa, O., May 22.—Budd Ahlstaeter, 35, was killed while blowing up stumps on a farm south of Columbus Grove. He leaves a wife and one child.

GOOD MEAT DISHES.
Braised Roll of Beef—Select a three and one-half to four pound cut of fancy brisket of Boston roll and wipe with damp cloth. Now pat one-half cup of flour into the meat and place one-half cup of shortening in frying pan and, when smoking hot, add the meat. Brown meat well, turning frequently until a good, rich brown. Now remove and place in a deep saucepan. Add six tablespoons of flour to the fat left in the frying pan and brown flour until a rich mahogany brown. Then add two cups of cold water. Stir to thoroughly blend and bring to a boil. Cook three minutes and pour over meat in the sauce pan. Now add six onions, one large carrot, cut into large dice, one fagot of soup herbs, one cup of boiling water. Cover closely and bring quickly to a boil. Then set over the simmering burner where the meat will cook slowly until tender. This usually takes about two hours.

Baked Smoked-Ham—Soak a slice of ham in a cup of milk overnight. Lift ham. Now put on ham three tablespoons flour and add one-half cup fresh milk to the milk in which ham was soaked. Bake thirty-five minutes in moderate oven.

RICHARD WAGNER
MAY 22nd, 1813
Wilhelm Richard Wagner, one of the greatest composers that ever lived, and also a poet and essay writer, was born at Leipzig in 1813. He was such a good student that when he was 20 years old he translated the first 12 books of Homer for his own amusement.

Meantime he had been studying music, and his first symphony was performed when he was 20 years old. He was 23 when he married an actress, and not quite 30 when his first opera was performed. This was "Rienzi" and it was followed by the "Flying Dutchman." His third opera "Tannhauser," brought him in contact with the musician Liszt. It was Liszt who sheltered him when he fled from Dresden during some political riots.

Very little of the composer's life was happy. He wrote the "Nibelungen Ring," "Tristan and Isolde," "Lohengrin," the "Mastersinger," and last of all "Parsifal"—the libretto a ridiculous mixture of the Arthurian legends and Christianity and the music some of the most sublime that has ever been written.

After his first wife's death he married Liszt's daughter. He died in 1883. He has always been as popular in England and America as in his own country, and his operas, translated into English, are being performed here today.

Radicals Refused Writ.
Youngstown, O., May 22.—Forty alleged radicals held in jail here for deportation as members of the Communist party of America were refused writs of habeas corpus by Judge D. C. Westenhaver, sitting in United States district court here. The men all of whom are aliens, charged through an attorney that their arrest and imprisonment were not legal.

"JUST A GIRL"

BY JANE PHELPS

HORACE SANDERS PROPOSES
Chapter 8.
"Zena I love you! Do you, can you care enough for me to be my wife? Wait—I am older than you are, but not too old to make you happy if you will trust me," Horace Sanders said to me.
This was more as the men proposed in books than Jack Pryor's taking it for granted. I suddenly felt very solemn—very grown up.
"Oh, I don't think I shall ever marry! Not for years and years!" I almost laughed as it flashed over me that I had used the very same words I had when Jack asked when I was going to marry him.
"I know that perhaps you feel that way now, but won't you let me try to make you love me. I feel sure I can," he pleaded.
"Love goes where it is sent," sentimentally I replied.
"But you don't dislike me?"
"Oh, no. I couldn't dislike anyone who danced as divinely as you do and who is so kind and thoughtful. But liking isn't love, I added with all the wisdom of my 19 years.
"Will you try to love me?"
"There's no use trying—when you don't want to do a thing. And I don't want to get married."
"I shall not give up hope that I may make you change your mind."
"I shan't! So don't hope."
He said a lot more to me about oving me, not being willing to give up et cetera. It was really thrilling, so like I had always supposed men talked — just as they did in fiction. Finally he left me and I rushed in to Dad.

"Well, that's over!" I exclaimed.
"What?"
"That proposal, Mr. Sanders."
"Um—what did you tell him. If I may ask!"
"Of course you may ask!" I climbed onto his knee. "He said he would teach me to love him, and a lot of things. But I told him love went where it was sent; that I liked him because he danced so divinely, and was nice to me, but I didn't love him and didn't want to get married."

"What did he say to all of that?" Dad's eyes were twinkling.
"He said he would not give up hope. It was just like it is in all the novels—the proposal I mean. They always end up by saying they won't give up hope, you know."

"What did he say then?"
"I told him I wouldn't change my mind, so not to hope."
Dad asked no more questions, but I knew by the way his arm tightened around me that he was pleased.

"So you refused Horace Sanders last night?" Mother said to me.
"Yes," I felt quite important, yet a little embarrassed, too.
"He is a very rich man, and not very old. Sometimes a man who is a few years older than a girl, makes a very good husband."

"But I don't want a husband." You will some day.
Mother said nothing more to me but I heard her talking to Dad about Mr. Sanders.

"He is desirable in every way except his age," she said.
"I am very glad Zena cares nothing for him," Dad returned. "I don't believe in such marriages. Men and women have to grow old together if they are to be happy."

We left Palm Beach in a few days. Mr. Sanders was very nice and assured me once more that he would not give up hope.

I had a great surprise when I reached home. Edith Wren called up and asked me to come right over that she had something to tell me and couldn't wait.

I felt suddenly frightened. Had Kenneth Lawrence written her? Perhaps he had asked her to marry him. I almost ran the two blocks to her house, and was all out of breath when I got there.

"What is it? I am dying with curiosity!" I declared.
"He says he is tired of waiting for you, so he asked me to marry him." "He—so? Thoughts of Kenneth neth made me feel faint."

"Why, Gregory Stuart, of course. See!" She held up her finger on which sparkled a big solitaire.

REPORTS OF VIOLENCE IN MICHIGAN ARE BEING INVESTIGATED

Saginaw, Mich., May 22.—Acting under instructions from Governor Sleeper, Captain March, head of the state constabulary is in the beet sugar district in this section today investigating reports of the burning and dynamiting of several farm houses occupied by sugar farmers because of the rumors of alleged night riders in an attempt to intimidate the workers who have refused to join the strike against the sugar association in protest against unfair prices in the 1920 crop contracts.

During the last week reports have reached county authorities that a house, near Hemlock owned by a sugar planter and housing a sugar worker, was dynamited on May 8, and the workers frightened out of the community and several houses occupied by sugar workers in other part of the sugar growing district around Elkton have been burned. Governor Sleeper ordered an investigation and said that if it was necessary he would order the state constabulary to patrol the district to protect workers.

W. S. Wallace, general manager of the Michigan Sugar Company, declared today there is no justification for the reports of violence in this locality.

Beauty Chats

Possibly some of my readers who are trying to reduce, and who do not want to learn the tables of calories which will enable them to reduce scientifically, would like to know of some dishes which will not add flesh.

These given today are not fattening at all, and are healthy, particularly at this time of the year.

Rhubarb—Stewed and sweetened with saccharine. However, if you put only a little sugar in, it won't be so very fattening, for there is quite a bit of acid in rhubarb. Only, don't make it so sweet, the juice is like molasses. As a matter of fact, I believe it is healthier slightly acid; it cleans the stomach and purifies the blood.

Spinach—This has no fat in it, but all sorts of other valuable ingredients. It is rich in vitamins, the element of food that gives life and that makes children grow, and it has mineral salts in it which the system needs. It tastes particularly good if it is stewed soft, the juice poured off, and the rest run through a meat chopper. A hard boiled egg sliced over the top makes it look tempting. Also, it makes a novel and delicious salad if it is made into small patties, with a little vinegar, salt and pepper added.

Asparagus—The calorie value is so low as to be negligible. But don't make this fattening by eating it with Hollandaise or with butter sauce. Asparagus can be cut into small pieces and boiled and served as a vegetable, or it can be boiled and served in long, unbroken, thick stalks.

Fresh Tomatoes—For stewing, for salads, for garnishing. These taste as fresh and delicious as they look, and are excellent food and not a bit fattening.

Perplexed—A girl just five feet tall, 12 years old, should weigh about 98 pounds.

C. W. G.—A woman 34, five feet 8 inches tall in her stocking feet, should weigh 147, and can even weigh less and look well.

Constant Reader—A girl five feet 4 inches tall should weigh about 123 pounds when she is 15. These are insurance table statistics, and they allow a generous amount of weight. You are quite thin. Perhaps you do not eat enough; if you seem to eat very much less than other girls your age, force yourself to eat a very little more each day. You can increase your capacity as well as your appetite, you know.

R. C. E.—An average weight for a young girl five feet one is 115 pounds.

"BRINGING UP FATHER"

POSSE CAPTURES BANDITS AND LOOT

Howe, Neb., May 22.—Three bandits who robbed the state bank here late yesterday of $2,000 in cash and $6,000 in liberty bonds and made their escape in an automobile after an exchange of shots with bank officials, were overtaken at Bean Lake, Mo., by Atchison, Kansas, deputies at 10 o'clock Friday night. In the shooting fray that followed, three bandits were shot, two of them probably fatally. The third bandit escaped to the hills with a bullet in his shoulder. Posses are scouring the hills in search of him. All of the money and liberty bonds were recovered. Two of the bandits have been identified as Harry Maynard, St. Louis, Mo., and Walter Bradford, Kansas City. The one who escaped is said to be Eddie Lancaster, also of Kansas City.

SPANISH WOMEN URGE THAT SANDALS REPLACE SHOES

A movement by which the people would be urged to wear hempen sandals instead of leather shoes has been started by the women in Spain to compel shoe dealers to cut excessive prices. Dispatches from the provinces state the idea is spreading throughout the country, and that literary, theatrical, military and social clubs are subscribing large funds to purchase shoes at wholesale in order to resell them to members at low prices next winter. Mrs. M. Van Bell, of Covington, Ky., is said to be the only woman United States court commissioner in America. She is serving her third consecutive term and is now in her ninth year of service. She has presided over every sort of case which comes to the attention of the Federal Court, excepting murder. She has heard cases of bank robberies, embezzlements, moonshiners and bootleggers, the latter gentry being more prominent now that prohibition is supposed to be in effect.

Many violators of the espionage law came under her care during the war years when that law was so strict. Her home, Covington, is the headquarters of the American Protective League which did more than any other agency to stamp out unpatriotic movements.

Mrs. Bell is a widow and has two sons, David, who served two years overseas, with the famous "Cyclone division" and Thomas, who graduates from high school next month. Besides being United States commissioner, Mrs. Bell is also deputy clerk of the district federal court.

TRY THESE.
To Keep Moths Out of the Carpets—Before the carpet is laid down again scrub the floor with strong hot salt and water. Sprinkle the carpet with salt once a week before sweeping. Try this and it will prove good.

The Housewife will find by pouring a little kerosene into the water when washing windows, mirrors, lamp chimneys, etc., they polish quickly and look so much better. But do not put a whole lot of water on when washing. Wring the cloth well.
